RESPONSIBLE BODY'S DECLARATION

In accordance with the Financial Management Act 1994, I am pleased to present the Australian Grand Prix Corporation's Annual Report for the year ending 30 June 2024.

Hon. Martin Pakula
Chairman
Australian Grand Prix Corporation
18 October 2024

1. REPORT OF THE CHAIRMAN

The Australian Grand Prix Corporation (AGPC) has continued on a path of growth, innovation and success over the past 12 months, cementing the organisation's position as a leader in the delivery of international major events.

With both the Formula 1[®] Australian Grand Prix and the Australian Motorcycle Grand Prix, AGPC's events make substantial contributions to Victoria's visitor economy, boosting tourism, hotel occupancy and visitor spend.

The MotoGPTM[™] Guru by Gryfyn Australian Motorcycle Grand Prix 2023 brought a dramatic weekend of racing to the Phillip Island Grand Prix Circuit, where the main MotoGPTM[™] race was brought forward to Saturday to avoid the high winds and rain forecast for the Sunday. Australian Moto3[™] rider Joel Kelso achieved his first ever podium in the category with a third-place finish.

A highlight was the Homecoming Ride on Wednesday before the race weekend, with MotoGPTM[™] fan favourite Marc Marquez joining rising star Pedro Acosta and Joel Kelso with over 400 avid fans for a ride from San Remo to the Circuit.

The FORMULA 1 ROLEX AUSTRALIAN GRAND PRIX 2024 was once again a record-breaking occasion, with an estimated attendance of 452,055 over four days, the highest in Melbourne's history.

The Albert Park Grand Prix circuit delivered a thrilling experience with Formula 1[®] supported by Formula 2[®], Formula 3[®], Supercars and the Porsche Carrera Cup.

Beyond the racing, the event offered the very best in Australian music, food, hospitality and entertainment. A significant development for 2024 was the reimagined family zone as part of a multi-year partnership with Warner Bros.

Attracting international and interstate visitors, the event garnered widespread attention and recognition for Victoria, with research confirming that the vast majority of visitors who attend the Formula 1[®] Australian Grand Prix are likely to return to Melbourne.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The Formula 1[®] Australian Grand Prix and the Australian Motorcycle Grand Prix are large-scale, international events which focus the eyes of the world on Victoria. Delivering these events to a high standard each year takes the efforts of a wide group of individuals, stakeholders, suppliers and partners.

I have now chaired AGPC for a full cycle and have thoroughly enjoyed working alongside the Board and the wider AGPC team. Without a dedicated group working behind the scenes, these events would not be the world-class spectacles that they are.

I would particularly like to thank all AGPC staff. It is with their dedication, commitment and teamwork that we have been able to deliver another successful year.

I would like to acknowledge the dedicated members of the AGPC Board, including continuing directors, Kimberley Brown, Mick Doohan AM, Nicki Kenyon, Paul Lappin, John O'Rourke and Mark Webber AO. The significant expertise provided by the Board's leadership, along with the time and dedication committed to both events and the organisation more generally, is of huge benefit to AGPC.

I also wish to acknowledge retiring directors Tal Karp and Kate Lundy, who made substantial contributions to AGPC and the running of the Formula 1[®] Australian Grand Prix and the Australian Motorcycle Grand Prix during their time on the AGPC Board.

As we farewell Tal and Kate, it is also time to welcome two new Board members – former Victorian Governor Linda Dessau AC CVO and Dr Gillian Sparkes AM, who have been appointed to the AGPC Board for three-year terms. Linda has also been appointed to the role of Deputy Chair.

The Victorian Government, particularly the Premier of Victoria the Hon Jacinta Allan MP and the Minister for Tourism, Sport and Major Events Steve Dimopoulos MP, provide enormous support for both the Formula 1® Australian Grand Prix and the Australian Motorcycle Grand Prix, and I thank them for that support.

With over 1,000 volunteer marshals at the Albert Park Grand Prix Circuit and over 500 at the Phillip Island Circuit, we are indebted to the dedication of these individuals, offering their time each year to ensure the safe running of the on-track activities.

Parks Victoria, the City of Port Phillip, the Bass Coast Shire Council, and the Phillip Island Circuit all make wonderful contributions to presenting the two circuits and their surrounding areas to the world each year.

Thank you to our partners and suppliers, who consistently raise the bar in delivering world-class experiences and facilities.

Finally, I would like to thank the fans of the Formula 1® Australian Grand Prix and the Australian Motorcycle Grand Prix who make these events what they are. We owe the unique atmosphere at Albert Park and Phillip Island to the energy and enthusiasm of those who join us trackside.

Independent Auditor's Report

To the Members of the Board of the Australian Grand Prix Corporation

Opinion I have audited the financial report of the Australian Grand Prix Corporation (the corporation) which comprises the:

- balance sheet as at 30 June 2024
- comprehensive operating statement for the year then ended
- statement of changes in equity for the year then ended
- cash flow statement for the year then ended
- notes to the financial statements, including material accounting policy information
- statement by members of the board and officers.

In my opinion the financial report presents fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the corporation as at 30 June 2024 and its financial performance and cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with the financial reporting requirements of Part 7 of the Financial Management Act 1994 and applicable Australian Accounting Standards.

Basis for Opinion I have conducted my audit in accordance with the Audit Act 1994 which incorporates the Australian Auditing Standards. I further describe my responsibilities under that Act and those standards in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Report section of my report.

My independence is established by the Constitution Act 1975. My staff and I are independent of the corporation in accordance with the ethical requirements of the Accounting Professional and Ethical Standards Board's APES 110 Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (the Code) that are relevant to my audit of the financial report in Victoria. My staff and I have also fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code.

I believe that the audit evidence I have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my opinion.

Members of the Board's responsibilities for the financial report The Members of the Board of the corporation are responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial report in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards and the Financial Management Act 1994, and for such internal control as the Members of the Board determine is necessary to enable the preparation and fair presentation of a financial report that is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial report, the Members of the Board are responsible for assessing the corporation's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless it is inappropriate to do so.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial report

As required by the Audit Act 1994, my responsibility is to express an opinion on the financial report based on the audit. My objectives for the audit are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial report as a whole is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes my opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Australian Auditing Standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of this financial report.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Australian Auditing Standards, I exercise professional judgement and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. I also:

- identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial report, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the corporation's internal control
- evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Members of the Board
- conclude on the appropriateness of the Members of the Board's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the corporation's ability to continue as a going concern. If I conclude that a material uncertainty exists, I am required to draw attention in my auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial report or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify my opinion. My conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of my auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the corporation to cease to continue as a going concern.
- evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial report, including the disclosures, and whether the financial report represents the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

I communicate with the Members of the Board regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that I identify during my audit.

7.1 About this report

Australian Grand Prix Corporation (AGPC) is a statutory authority established pursuant to the Australian Grands Prix Act 1994 (as amended) ("AGP Act").

Its principal address is:
Australian Grand Prix Corporation
Level 5, 616 St Kilda Road
Melbourne VIC 3004

AGPC is subject to the direction and control of the Minister administering the AGP Act. At the time of this report this was the Minister for Tourism, Sport and Major Events, Steve Dimopoulos MP.

Basis of preparation

These financial statements are in Australian dollars, the functional and presentation currency of AGPC, and the historical cost convention is used unless a different measurement basis is specifically disclosed in the note associated with the item measured on a different basis.

The accrual basis of accounting has been applied in the preparation of these financial statements whereby assets, liabilities, equity, income and expenses are recognised in the reporting period to which they relate, regardless of when cash is received or paid.

Consistent with the requirements of AASB 1004 Contributions, contributions by owners (that is, contributed capital and its repayment) are treated as equity transactions and, therefore, do not form part of the income and expenses of AGPC.

Judgements, estimates and assumptions are required to be made about financial information being presented. The significant judgements made in the preparation of these financial statements are disclosed in the notes where amounts affected by those judgements are disclosed. Estimates and associated assumptions are based on professional judgements derived from historical experience and various other factors that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period or in the period of the revision, and future periods if the revision affects both current and future periods. Judgements made by management in the application of Australian Accounting Standards (AASs) that have significant effects on the financial statements and estimates, with a risk of material adjustments in the subsequent reporting period, are disclosed throughout the notes to the financial statements under the heading "Significant judgements or estimates".

All amounts in the financial statements (including the notes) have been rounded to the nearest thousand dollars, unless otherwise stated.

A number of transactions, including portions of revenue received from customers and expenses paid to suppliers, have been treated as deferred revenue, prepaid expenses or otherwise treated in accordance with the requirements of relevant accounting standards as they relate specifically to obligations to be undertaken or performed at a future event.

AGPC, having made appropriate enquiries, have a reasonable expectation that AGPC has the ability to continue as a going concern. Therefore, it continues to adopt the going concern basis of accounting in preparing the annual financial statements.

Compliance information

AGPC's financial statements are a general-purpose financial report which has been prepared in accordance with the Financial Management Act 1994 and applicable AASs which include interpretations issued by the Australian Accounting Standards Board (AASB).

In complying with AASs, AGPC has, where relevant, applied those paragraphs applicable to not-for-profit entities. Accounting policies are selected and applied in a manner which ensures that the resulting financial information satisfies the concepts of relevance and reliability, thereby ensuring that the substance of the underlying transactions or other events is reported.

To gain a better understanding of the terminology used in this report, a glossary of terms and style conventions can be found in Note 7.9.9.

The annual financial statements were authorised for issue by the Chairman of the Board on 18 October 2024.

7.2 Funding delivery of our events

Introduction

AGPC's overall objective is to stage two international motorsport events, the Formula 1[®] Australian Grand Prix in Melbourne and the Australian Motorcycle Grand Prix in Phillip Island.

To enable AGPC to fulfil its objective, it receives income predominantly from ticket sales and the sponsorship of events as well as from Government contributions.

Notes:

(a) The income above relating to the FORMULA 1 ROLEX AUSTRALIAN GRAND PRIX 2024 does not include resources provided free of charge from the Department of Transport and Planning (DTP) relating to the provision of free public transport. Refer Note 7.9.4 for further details.

(b) Includes $10,870,000 of recurrent funding for the 2024 MotoGPTM[™] Guru by Gryfyn Australian Motorcycle Grand Prix 2023 received in the 2023-24 financial year (2023: $10,000,000 for the 2023 Motorcycle event).

AGPC has completed an assessment of all revenue streams in accordance with AASB 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers and has classified its revenue as follows:

- sales revenue includes ticket sales for products including corporate hospitality, grandstands and general admission;
- sponsorship/commercial revenue includes sponsorship, royalty and exhibition revenue;
- interest revenue includes interest received or receivable on bank deposits and other investments; and
- other operating revenue includes non-ticket sales, recoveries and consulting revenue.

Performance obligations and revenue recognition

Revenue is measured based on the consideration specified in the contract with the customer. AGPC recognises revenue when it transfers control of a good or service to the customer, i.e. when, or as, the performance obligations for the sale of goods and services to the customer are satisfied.

- Customers obtain control of the supplies and consumables at a point in time when the goods are delivered to and accepted by the customer.
- Revenue from the sale of goods is recognised when the goods are delivered and have been accepted by the customer.
- Revenue from the rendering of services is recognised at a point in time when the performance obligation is satisfied when the service is completed; and over time when the customer simultaneously receives and consumes the services as it is provided.

Sales, sponsorship/commercial and other operating revenues are recognised after the completion of the event. Until the event has occurred, the amounts received are recognised as deferred income (refer to Note 7.5.3 for further details).

Interest revenue is recognised using the effective interest method which allocates the interest over the relevant period.

AGPC has determined that all recurrent government contributions are recognised as income of not-for-profit entities in accordance with AASB 1058 Income of Not-for-Profit Entities, except for government contributions that are enforceable and with sufficiently specific performance obligations and accounted for as revenue from contracts with customers in accordance with AASB 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers.

Income from recurrent government contributions without any sufficiently specific performance obligations, or that are not enforceable, are recognised when AGPC has an unconditional right to receive cash which usually coincides with the receipt of cash. On initial recognition of the asset, AGPC recognises any related contributions by owners, increases in liabilities, decreases in assets, and revenue ('related amounts') in accordance with other Australian Accounting Standards. Related amounts may take the form of:

- contributions by owners, in accordance with AASB 1004 Contributions;
- revenue or a contract liability arising from a contract with a customer, in accordance with AASB 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers;
- a lease liability in accordance with AASB 16 Leases;
- a financial instrument, in accordance with AASB 9 Financial Instruments; or
- a provision, in accordance with AASB 137 Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets.

Income received for specific purpose grants for on-passing is recognised simultaneously as the funds are immediately on passed to the relevant recipient entities on behalf of the Commonwealth Government.

Income from government contributions that are enforceable and with sufficiently specific performance obligations are accounted for as revenue from contracts with customers under AASB 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers. These contributions relate to funding provided to acquire license rights to host the Formula 1® event and the works performed within Albert Park under license from Parks Victoria in its capacity as Committee of Management for Albert Park. Government contributions in relation to such works are recognised as revenue in the financial year in which the obligation has been satisfied.

Notes:

(a) The expenses above relating to the FORMULA 1 ROLEX AUSTRALIAN GRAND PRIX 2024 do not include resources consumed free of charge from the Department of Transport and Planning (DTP) relating to the provision of free public transport. Refer to Note 7.9.4.

(b) Includes depreciation and amortisation. Refer to Note 7.4.1 for further details.

Event management and staging include costs relating to venue and event operations.

Recurrent engineering expenses include costs relating to the assembly, dismantling, and servicing of event infrastructure. It includes any non-capital expenditure on areas in and around the Albert Park and Phillip Island circuits.

Marketing and promotion expenses are costs incurred in ensuring that the event is promoted to the general public and corporate clients thereby increasing sales revenue.

Catering costs are predominantly incurred in the provision of high-class facilities to hospitality clients. Employee salaries and benefits have been allocated against the appropriate category in the above table.

7.3.2 Employee benefits

7.3.2.1 Employee benefits in the comprehensive operating statement

| Salaries and wages, annual leave and long service leave | | 14,973 | 12,399 |
| Superannuation contributions | | 1,396 | 1,137 |
| Termination benefits | | 274 | 122 |
| Total employee benefits expense | | 16,643 | 13,658 |

Employee expenses are recognised when incurred. These expenses include all costs related to employment including wages and salaries, fringe benefits tax, leave entitlements, termination payments and WorkCover premiums.

Superannuation contributions are made by AGPC to an employee superannuation fund and are charged as expenses when incurred.

7.3.2.2 Employee benefits in the balance sheet

Provision is made for benefits accruing to employees in respect of wages and salaries, annual leave and long service leave (LSL) for services rendered to the reporting date and recorded as an expense during the period the services are delivered.

Provisions are recognised when AGPC has a present obligation, the future sacrifice of economic benefits is probable, and the amount of the provision can be measured reliably. The amount recognised as a provision is the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the reporting date, considering the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation.

Where a provision is measured using the cash flows estimated to settle the present obligation, the carrying amount is the present value of those cash flows, using a discount rate that reflects the time value of money and risks specific to the provision.

| On-costs | 29 | 14 |
| Total non-current provisions for employee benefits | 193 | 96 |
| Total provisions for employee benefits | 1,606 | 1,217 |

Notes:

(a) Provisions for employee benefits consist of amounts for annual leave and long service leave accrued by employees, not including on-costs.

(b) Employee benefit amounts disclosed are discounted to present values.

Wages and salaries and annual leave: Liabilities for wages and salaries, including non-monetary benefits and annual leave are recognised in the provision for employee benefits as current liabilities, because AGPC does not have an unconditional right to defer settlements of these liabilities.

Depending on the expectation of the timing of settlement, liabilities for wages and salaries, and annual leave are measured at:

- nominal value - if AGPC expects to wholly settle within 12 months; or
- present value - if AGPC does not expect to wholly settle within 12 months.

Long Service Leave (LSL): Liability for LSL is recognised in the provision for employee benefits.

Unconditional LSL is disclosed as a current liability; even where AGPC does not expect to settle the liability within 12 months because it will not have the unconditional right to defer the settlement should an employee take leave within 12 months.

The components of this current LSL liability are measured at:

- nominal value – component that AGPC expects to wholly settle within 12 months; or
- present value – component that AGPC does not expect to wholly settle within 12 months

Conditional LSL is disclosed as a non-current liability. There is a conditional right to defer the settlement of the entitlement until the employee has completed the requisite years of service. The non-current liability is measured at present value.

Any gain or loss following revaluation of the present value of the non-current LSL liability is recognised as a transaction, except to the extent that a gain or loss arises due to changes in bond interest rates, for which it is then recognised as an 'other economic flow' (refer Note 7.9.9).

Employee benefits on-costs such as payroll tax, worker's compensation and superannuation are recognised separately from the provision for employee benefits.

7.3.3 Other operating expenses

| Bad and doubtful debts | | (384) | 382 |
| Total other operating expenses | | 3,281 | 26,150 |

Ex gratia expenses are the voluntary payments of money or other non-monetary benefit (e.g. a write off) that is not made either to acquire goods, services or other benefits for the entity or to meet a legal liability, or to settle or resolve a possible legal liability of or claim against the entity (refer Note 7.9.1).

Fair value of assets and services provided free of charge to Parks Victoria are works undertaken by AGPC within the Albert Park reserve of a capital/asset nature. As the Albert Park reserve is under the control of Parks Victoria, the assets are transferred to Parks Victoria free of charge once they are completed or installed.

Initial recognition: Items of non-financial physical assets are measured initially at cost and subsequently revalued at fair value less accumulated depreciation and impairment. Where an asset is received for no or nominal cost, the cost is the asset's fair value at the date of acquisition. The cost of non-financial physical assets constructed includes the cost of all materials used in construction, direct labour on the project, and an appropriate proportion of variable and fixed overheads. All fixed capital works constructed within Albert Park have been transferred to a third party, Parks Victoria, free of charge, in accordance with the license agreements.

Refer to Note 7.3.3 for additional information on other operating expenses.

Right-of-use asset acquired by lessees – Initial measurement: AGPC recognises a right-of-use asset and a lease liability at the lease commencement date. The right-of-use asset is initially measured at cost which comprises the initial amount of the lease liability adjusted for:

- any lease payments made at or before the commencement date less any lease incentive received; plus
- any initial direct costs incurred; and
- an estimate of costs to dismantle and remove the underlying asset or to restore the underlying asset or the site on which it is located.

Subsequent measurement: The fair value of infrastructure and equipment is normally determined by reference to the asset's current replacement cost. For equipment, existing depreciated historical cost is generally a reasonable proxy for the current replacement cost because of the short lives of the assets concerned.

Right-of-use asset – Subsequent measurement: AGPC depreciates the right-of-use assets on a straight-line basis from the lease commencement date to the earlier of the end of the useful life of the right-of-use asset or the end of the lease term. The right-of-use assets are also subject to revaluation. In addition, the right-of-use asset is periodically reduced by impairment losses, if any and adjusted for certain remeasurements of the lease liability.

Separation of lease and non-lease components: At inception or on reassessment of a contract that contains a lease component, the lessee is required to separate out and account separately for non-lease components within a lease contract and exclude these amounts when determining the lease liability and right-of-use asset amount.

Estimated impairment of non-financial assets: AGPC assesses impairment of all assets at each reporting date by evaluating conditions specific to AGPC and to the particular asset that may lead to impairment. These may include asset performance, economic and political environments and future expectations. Given the specific nature of AGPC's assets, management has tested assets for impairment in this financial period. No impairment of assets was identified.

Refer to Note 7.8.2 for additional information on fair value determination of infrastructure and equipment.

All items of infrastructure equipment that have finite useful lives are depreciated. Depreciation is calculated on a straight-line basis at rates that allocate the asset's value, less any estimated residual value, over its estimated useful life. The estimated useful lives, residual values and depreciation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, and adjustments made when necessary.

AGPC's management, with the assistance of the Valuer-General Victoria (independent valuation agency), determines the estimated useful lives and related depreciation charges for its infrastructure and equipment. Management will increase the depreciation charge where useful lives are less than previously estimated useful lives or will write-off or write-down obsolete assets or those that are no longer considered useful.

The following are typical useful lives for the different asset classes for current and prior years.

Notes:

(a) The last scheduled full revaluation for this purpose group was conducted in 2022.

Revaluation of non-financial physical assets

Non-financial physical assets are revalued at fair value every five years in accordance with the Government purpose classifications defined in Financial Reporting Direction 103 Non-Financial Physical Assets (FRD 103).

The Valuer-General Victoria (VGV) is the Government's independent valuation agency and is used by AGPC to conduct these scheduled revaluations.

Revaluations may occur more frequently if fair value assessments indicate material changes in values. In such instances, interim managerial revaluations are undertaken in accordance with the requirements of FRD 103.

AGPC in conjunction with VGV, monitors changes in the fair value of each asset class through relevant data sources, in order to determine whether a revaluation is required.

Treatment of accumulated depreciation on revaluation: Treatment of accumulated depreciation on revaluation is such that when non-financial physical assets were revalued, AGPC accounted for the accumulated depreciation at the date of the revaluation by eliminating the accumulated depreciation balance against the gross carrying amount of the asset and increasing the net carrying amount to the revalued amount of the asset (net approach).

7.5 Other assets and liabilities

Introduction

This section sets out those assets and liabilities that arose from AGPC's controlled operations.

Structure

| 7.5.2 | Payables..... | 73 |

| Total receivables | 4,777 | 6,384 |
| Represented by | | |
| Current receivables | 4,777 | 6,384 |

Receivables consist predominantly of debtors in relation to goods and services.

Contractual receivables are classified as financial instruments and categorised as "financial assets at amortised costs". They are initially recognised at fair value plus any directly attributable transaction costs. AGPC holds the contractual receivables with the objective to collect the contractual cash flows and therefore subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less any impairment.

Statutory receivables do not arise from contracts and are recognised and measured similarly to contractual receivables (except for impairment) but are not classified as financial instruments for disclosure purposes. AGPC applies AASB 9 for initial measurement of statutory receivables, which are initially recognised at fair value plus any directly attributable transaction costs.

Details about AGPC's impairment policies, AGPC's exposure to credit risk, and the calculation of the loss allowance are set out in Note 7.8.1.

7.5.2 Payables

| Total payables | 12,322 | 10,558 |
| Represented by: | | |
| Current payables | 12,322 | 10,558 |

Payables consist of:

- contractual payables, such as accounts payable, are classified as financial instruments, and measured at amortised cost (refer to Note 7.8.1 for further details). Accounts payable represents liabilities for goods or services provided to AGPC prior to the end of the financial year that are unpaid, and arise when AGPC becomes obliged to make future payments in respect of the purchases of goods and services; and
- statutory payables, such as goods and services tax and fringe benefits tax payables, are recognised and measured similarly to contractual payables, but are not classified as financial instruments and not included in the category of financial liabilities at amortised cost, because they do not arise from a contract.

Payables for supplies and services have a credit period of 30 days from date of invoice unless otherwise contractually agreed.

The following table discloses the contractual maturity analysis for AGPC's contractual financial liabilities.

Maturity analysis of contractual payables ^{(a)(b)}

| Advance commercial income | 4,527 | 5,845 |
| Total deferred income | 4,527 | 5,845 |

Income is deferred where AGPC has a contractual obligation to deliver specified goods or services that are enforceable and sufficiently specific in relation to performance obligations. The extent to which performance obligations have been met dictates the amount of income to recognise or defer to a future period.

| Total borrowings | 2,765 | 2,467 |

Borrowings recognised on the balance sheet is entirely made up of lease liabilities.

Recognition and measurement of leases as a lessee

Lease Liability – initial measurement

The lease liability is initially measured at the present value of the lease payments unpaid at the commencement date, discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease if that rate is readily determinable or AGPC's incremental borrowing rate.

Lease payments included in the measurement of the lease liability comprise fixed payments (including in-substance fixed payments) less any lease incentive receivable.

All incentives for the agreement of a new or renewed operating lease are recognised as an integral part of the net consideration agreed for the use of the leased asset, irrespective of the incentive's nature or form or the timing of payments. The aggregate costs of incentives are recognised as a reduction of rental expenses over the term on a straight-line basis, unless another more systematic basis is more representative of the time pattern in which economic benefits from the leased asset are consumed.

Lease Liability – subsequent measurement

Subsequent to initial measurement, the liability will be reduced for payments made and increased for interest. It is remeasured to reflect any reassessment or modification, or if there are changes in-substance fixed payments.

When the lease liability is remeasured, the corresponding adjustment is reflected in the right-of-use asset, or profit and loss if the right-of-use asset is already reduced to zero.

7.6.2 Leases

Right-of-use assets are presented in Note 7.4.1 as buildings at fair value and equipment at fair value.

Short-term leases and leases of low-value assets

AGPC has elected not to recognise right-of-use assets and lease liabilities for short-term leases of land and building used in circuit hire arrangements that have a lease term of 12 months or less and leases of low-value assets, including Albert Park, Phillip Island and the surrounding land. AGPC has determined that the non-cancellable term of these leases (representing the period of use) is 12 months or less, and thus elects to apply the recognition exemption for these short-term leases. AGPC recognises the lease payments associated with these leases as an expense on a straight-line bases over the lease term.

Leases at significantly below-market terms and conditions

AGPC has elected to recognise leases at significantly below-market terms and conditions (peppercorn leases) at their nominal value as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term. The principal activities of AGPC depend on peppercorn leases, in particular the arrangements for the Formula 1[®] show car and Albert Park circuit hire. The underlying assets in these leases are the show car hire, the land and relevant sport halls are used to facilitate the provision of the annual FORMULA 1 ROLEX AUSTRALIAN GRAND PRIX 2024. The nominal lease payment on the Formula 1[®] show car hire is $2 with no defined end date and the sports hall component of the Albert Park lease is $1,000 with a remaining lease term of 1 year.

For the purpose of the cash flow statement, cash and cash equivalents include cash at bank and deposits with an original maturity of three months or less, which are readily convertible to cash on hand and are subject to insignificant risk of changes in value.

7.6.4 Commitments for expenditure

AGPC has commitments associated with foreign exchange forward contracts (refer Note 7.8.1). AGPC has not disclosed the gross payable and receivable value of foreign currency contracts, nor has it disclosed operational and capital commitments as it is exempt under Section 49 of the Australian Grands Prix Act 1994.

Revaluation increases and decreases arise from differences between an asset's carrying value and fair value.

Net revaluation increases (where the carrying amount of a class of assets is increased as a result of a revaluation) are recognised in 'Other economic flows – comprehensive income' and accumulated in equity under the asset revaluation reserve.

7.8 Risks, contingencies, and valuation judgements

Introduction

AGPC is exposed to risk from its activities and outside factors. In addition, it is often necessary to make judgements and estimates associated with recognition and measurement of items in the financial statements. This section sets out financial instrument specific information, (including exposures to financial risks) as well as those items that are contingent in nature or require a higher level of judgement to be applied, which for AGPC relate mainly to fair value determination.

7.8.1 Financial instruments specific disclosures

Introduction

Financial instruments arise out of contractual agreements that give rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity. Due to the nature of AGPC's activities, certain financial assets and financial liabilities arise under statute rather than a contract. Such financial assets and financial liabilities do not meet the definition of financial instruments in AASB 132 Financial Instruments: Presentation.

Where relevant, for note disclosure purposes, a distinction is made between those financial assets and financial liabilities that meet the definition of financial instruments in accordance with AASB 132 and those that do not.

Categories of financial instruments

Financial assets at amortised cost

Financial assets are measured at amortised costs if both of the following criteria are met and the assets are not designated as fair value through net result:

- the assets are held by AGPC to collect the contractual cash flows; and
- the assets' contractual terms give rise to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interests.

These assets are initially recognised at fair value plus any directly attributable transaction costs and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method less any impairment.

AGPC recognises the following assets in this category:

- cash and deposits; and
- receivables (excluding statutory receivables).

Financial assets and liabilities at fair value through other comprehensive income

Derivative financial instruments are initially recognised at fair value on the date on which a derivative contract is entered into. Derivatives are carried as financial assets when their fair value is positive and as financial liabilities when their fair value is negative. Any gains or losses arising from changes in the fair value of derivatives after initial recognition are recognised in the comprehensive operating statement as other comprehensive income. Upon disposal of these derivative instruments, any related balance in the fair value reserve is reclassified to profit or loss.

From time-to-time certain derivative financial instruments do not qualify for hedge accounting, notwithstanding that the derivatives are held to hedge identified exposures. Any changes in the fair value of a derivative instrument or part of a derivative instrument that do not qualify for hedge accounting are classified as 'ineffective' and recognised immediately in the comprehensive operating statement.

Financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit and loss

Other financial assets and liabilities are required to be measured at fair value through net result unless they are measured at amortised cost or fair value through other comprehensive income as explained above.

However, as an exception to those rules above, AGPC may, at initial recognition, irrevocably designate financial assets as measured at fair value through net result if doing so eliminates or significantly reduces a measurement or recognition inconsistency ('accounting mismatch') that would otherwise arise from measuring assets or liabilities or recognising the gains and losses on them on different bases.

Financial liabilities at amortised cost are initially recognised on the date they are originated. They are initially measured at fair value plus any directly attributable transaction costs. Subsequent to initial recognition, these financial instruments are measured at amortised cost with any difference between the initial recognised amount and the redemption value being recognised in profit and loss over the period of the interest-bearing liability, using the effective interest rate method. AGPC recognises the following liabilities in this category:

- payables (excluding statutory payables);
- borrowings (including lease liabilities)

Offsetting financial instruments: Financial instrument assets and liabilities are offset, and the net amount is presented in the balance sheet when, and only when, AGPC has the legal right to offset the amounts and intend either to settle on a net basis or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

Derecognition of financial assets: A financial asset is derecognised when the rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired, or AGPC retains the right to receive cash flows from the asset, but has assumed an obligation to pay them in full without material delay to a third party under a 'pass through' arrangement, or AGPC has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the asset and transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset or transferred control of the asset.

Where AGPC has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards or transferred control, the asset is recognised to the extent of AGPC's continuing involvement in the asset.

Derecognition of financial liabilities: A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation under the liability is discharged, cancelled, or expires.

When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as a derecognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability. The difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognised as an 'other economic flow' in the comprehensive operating statement.

7.8.1.2 Financial instruments – Net holding gain/(loss) on financial instruments by category

($ thousand)

| 2024 | Net holding gain/(loss) | Total interest income/(expense) | Total |
|----------------------------------------------|-------------------------|---------------------------------|----------------|
| Contractual financial assets | | | |
| Financial assets at amortised cost | - | 3,364 | 3,364 |
| Derivatives at fair value through net result | (6,344) | - | (6,344) |

| Hedge ineffectiveness | (1) | - | (1) |
| Total contractual financial assets | 4,278 | 2,191 | 6,469 |

The net holding gains or losses disclosed above are determined as follows:

- for cash and cash equivalents, financial assets at amortised cost and debt instruments that are classified as financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income, the net gain or loss is calculated by taking the movement in the fair value of the asset, the interest income, plus or minus foreign exchange gains or losses arising from revaluation of the financial assets, and minus any impairment recognised in the net result;
- for financial liabilities measured at amortised cost, the net gain or loss is calculated by taking the interest expense, plus or minus foreign exchange gains or losses arising from the revaluation of financial liabilities measured at amortised cost; and
- for financial assets and liabilities designated at fair value through profit or loss, the net gain or loss is calculated by taking the movement in the fair value of the financial asset or liability.

7.8.1.3 Financial risk management objectives and policies

As a whole, AGPC's financial risk management program seeks to manage these risks and the associated volatility of its financial performance.

Details of the significant accounting policies and methods adopted, including the criteria for recognition, the basis of measurement, and the basis on which income and expenses are recognised, with respect to each class of financial asset, financial liability and derivative instrument are disclosed in Note 7.8.1 and throughout the financial statements in relevant notes.

The main purpose of holding financial instruments is to prudentially manage AGPC's financial risks within government policy parameters.

AGPC's activities expose it to a variety of financial risks including interest rate risk, foreign exchange risk, liquidity risk and credit risk. AGPC has determined that the most significant of these is foreign exchange risk. AGPC manages these financial risks in accordance with the financial risk policy.

AGPC uses different methods to measure different types of risk to which it is exposed. Primary responsibility for the identification and management of financial risks rests with the Audit, Finance and Risk Committee of AGPC.

Financial instruments: Credit risk

Credit risk arises from contractual financial assets of AGPC, which comprise cash and deposits, non-statutory receivables, and derivative instruments. Credit risk represents the loss that would be recognised if counterparties failed to perform as contracted. Credit risk is measured at fair value and is monitored on a regular basis.

Credit risk associated with AGPC's contractual financial assets is minimal because the main debtor is the Victorian Government. For debtors other than Government, it is AGPC's policy to only deal with creditworthy counterparties. Credit risk is controlled through AGPC's risk management policies which deal with credit exposure limits and counterparty limits.

Provision of impairment for contractual financial assets is recognised through the application of the expected credit loss model. AGPC uses a provision matrix that calculates expected future losses based on historical loss rates on trade receivables balances

Contract financial assets are written off against the carrying amount when there is no reasonable expectation of recovery. Loss allowance written off by mutual consent is classified as a transaction expense. Loss allowance written off following a unilateral decision is recognised as other economic flows in the net result.

The maximum credit risk exposure on foreign currency contracts is the full amount of the foreign currency AGPC pays when settlement occurs should the counterparty fail to pay the amount which it is committed to pay to AGPC.

As AGPC transacts all foreign currency contracts with the Treasury Corporation of Victoria the credit risk is minimal.

Impairment of financial assets under AASB 9

AGPC has been recording the allowance for expected credit loss for the relevant financial instruments using AASB 9's Expected Credit Loss approach. Subject to AASB 9 impairment assessment include AGPC's contractual receivables, statutory receivables and its investment in debt instruments.

Derivative instruments are not subject to impairment under AASB 9. Other financial assets mandatorily measured or designated at fair value through profit and loss are not subject to impairment assessment under AASB 9. While cash and cash equivalents are also subject to the impairment requirements of AASB 9, the identified impairment loss was immaterial.

Contractual receivables at amortised cost

AGPC applies AASB 9 simplified approach for all contractual receivables to measure expected credit losses using a lifetime expected loss allowance based on the assumptions about risk of default and expected loss rates. AGPC has grouped contractual receivables on shared credit risk characteristics and days past due and select the expected credit loss rate based on AGPC's past history, existing market conditions, as well as forward-looking estimates at the end of the financial year.

On this basis, AGPC's opening and closing balances in relation to loss allowance are as follows:

| 30 June 2024 | Current | Less than 1 month | 1-2 months | 2-3 months | 3-4 months | Over 4 months | Total |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------|-----------|-------------------|------------|------------|------------|---------------|----------------------------|

| Loss allowance | 7 | 77 | 76 | 2 | 0 | 400 | 562 |

Notes:

(a) Contractual receivables do not include those receivables that have been fully provided as doubtful. 2024: $45,455 (2023: $67,304).

(b) The gross carrying amount used for the calculation of loss allowance excludes $0 of receivables which had not been invoiced at balance date (2023: $285,000).

Contractual receivables are written off when there is no reasonable expectation for the receivables to be recovered and impairment losses are classified as a transaction expense. Subsequent recoveries of amounts previously written off are credited against the same line item.

Financial instruments: Market risk

AGPC's exposures to market risk are primarily through foreign currency risk and interest rate risk. Objectives, policies and processes used to manage each of these risks are disclosed below.

AGPC's sensitivity to market risk is determined based on the observed range of actual historical data for the preceding 5-year period, with all variables other than the primary risk variable held constant.

Foreign currency risk

AGPC has entered into forward foreign exchange contracts to hedge certain commitments denominated in US dollars. These contracts extend to 2026. Current derivatives relate to forward contracts that fall due within the next 12 months and non-current derivatives relate to forward contracts that fall due after this date.

These forward foreign exchange contracts have been entered into with full compliance of guidelines from, and with the approval of, the Treasurer of Victoria in accordance with the requirements of Section 24(2) of the Australian Grands Prix Act 1994.

AGPC has not disclosed the gross value payable and receivable under the foreign currency contracts and is exempted from doing so under Section 49 of the Australian Grands Prix Act 1994. Disclosure of this information would constitute a breach of the international agreements as defined in Note 7.9.8 Other accounting policies and disclosures (Economic dependency).

Taking into account past performance, future expectations, economic forecasts, and management's knowledge and experience of financial markets, AGPC believes the following foreign currency movements are reasonably possible over the next 12 months (base rates are sourced from Treasury Corporation of Victoria): a parallel shift of +15 per cent and -15 per cent in foreign exchange rates from year-end rates.

AGPC's sensitivity to foreign currency movements is set out below.

| | | ($ thousand) | |
|--------------------------|-----------------|-----------------|-----------------|
| | Carrying amount | -15% net result | +15% net result |
| 2024 | | | |

| Derivative liabilities | - | - | - |
| Total derivatives | 13,364 | 38,550 | (5,251) |

The line item in the comprehensive operating statement in which the hedge ineffectiveness is recognised is change in fair value of derivatives recognised through cash flow hedge reserve.

Interest rate risk

Fair value interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. AGPC does not hold any interest-bearing financial instruments that are measured at fair value, and therefore has no exposure to fair value interest rate risk.

Cash flow interest rate risk is the risk that the future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. AGPC manages this risk by monitoring movement in interest rates and through using interest-bearing deposits and/or term deposits in order to minimise interest rate risk.

The carrying amounts of financial assets and financial liabilities that are exposed to interest rates and AGPC's sensitivity to interest rate risk are set out in the table that follows.

7.8.2 Fair value determination

Significant judgement: Fair value measurements of assets and liabilities:

Fair value determination requires judgement and the use of assumptions. This section discloses the most significant assumptions used in determining fair values. Changes to assumptions could have a material impact on the results and financial position of AGPC.

Consistent with AASB 13 Fair Value Measurement, AGPC determines the policies and procedures for both recurring fair value measurements such as infrastructure and equipment and financial instruments, in accordance with the requirements of AASB 13 and the relevant Financial Reporting Directions (FRDs).

Fair value hierarchy

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial statements are categorised within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

- level 1 – quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;
- level 2 – valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is directly or indirectly observable; and
- level 3 – valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable.

AGPC determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorisation (based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

For the purpose of fair value disclosures, AGPC has determined classes of assets and liabilities on the basis of the nature, characteristics and risks of the asset or liability and the level of the fair value hierarchy as explained above.

The accounting policies set out below have been applied in preparing the financial statements for the year ended 30 June 2024 and the comparative information presented for the year ended 30 June 2023.

How this section is structured

For those assets and liabilities for which fair values are determined, the following disclosures are provided:

- carrying amount and the fair value (which would be the same for those assets measured at fair value);
- which level of the fair value hierarchy was used to determine the fair value; and
- in respect of those assets and liabilities subject to fair value determination using Level 3 inputs:
 - a reconciliation of the movements in fair values from the beginning of the year to the end; and
 - details of significant unobservable inputs used in the fair value determination.

This section is divided between disclosures in connection with fair value determination for financial assets and liabilities (refer to Note 7.8.2.1) and non-financial physical assets (refer to Note 7.8.2.2).

7.8.2.1 Fair value determination for financial assets and liabilities

The fair values and net fair values of financial assets and liabilities are determined as follows:

- level 1 – the fair value of financial instruments with standard terms and conditions and traded in active liquid markets are determined with reference to quoted market prices;
- level 2 – the fair value is determined using inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the financial asset or liability, either directly or indirectly; and
- level 3 – the fair value is determined in accordance with generally accepted pricing models based on discounted cash flow analysis using unobservable market inputs.

AGPC considers that the carrying amount of financial instrument assets and liabilities recorded in the financial statements is a fair approximation of their fair values because of the short-term nature of the financial instruments and the expectation that they will be paid in full.

Off-balance sheet financial instruments

AGPC has not disclosed the net fair value payable for forward future commitments under foreign exchange forward contracts and is exempted from doing so under Section 49 of the Australian Grands Prix Act 1994. Disclosure of this information would constitute a breach of the international agreements as defined in Note 7.9.8 Other accounting policies and disclosures (Economic dependency).

7.8.2.2 Fair value determination: Non-financial physical assets

| Fair value measurement hierarchy | ($ thousand) | | | |

Notes:

(a) Classified in accordance with the fair value hierarchy.

There have been no transfers between levels during the year.

The next scheduled revaluation will be in the 2025/2026 financial year.

There were no changes in valuation techniques throughout the year. (Note: Valuer General Victoria is AGPC's independent valuation agency and is used wherever valuations are required). The valuer has advised that the market conditions at the time of the valuation, impacted by inflation, supply and demand and construction costs were volatile, creating significant valuation uncertainty.

Equipment is held at fair value. When equipment is specialised in use, such that it is rarely sold other than as part of a going concern, fair value is determined using the current replacement cost method.

Infrastructure assets are valued using the current replacement cost method when determining their fair value. Replacement costs relate to costs to replace the current service capacity of the asset. Economic obsolescence has also been factored into the current replacement cost calculation.

For all assets measured at fair value, the current use is considered the highest and best use.

| Equipment | Current replacement cost | Cost per unit | $500 - $750,000 per unit | A significant increase or decrease in cost per unit would result in a significantly higher or lower fair value. |
| | | Useful life of equipment | 3 - 5 years | A significant increase or decrease in the estimated useful life of the asset would result in a significantly higher or lower valuation. |
| Infrastructure | Current replacement cost | Cost per unit | $500 - $464,000 per unit | A significant increase or decrease in cost per unit would result in a significantly higher or lower fair value. |
| | | Useful life of infrastructure | 3 - 50 years | A significant increase or decrease in the estimated useful life of the asset would result in a significantly higher or lower valuation. |

7.8.3 Contingent assets and contingent liabilities

Contingent assets and contingent liabilities are not recognised in the balance sheet, but are disclosed and, if quantifiable, are measured at nominal value. Contingent assets and liabilities are presented inclusive of GST.

Contingent assets

Contingent assets are possible assets that arise from past events, whose existence will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the entity. These are classified as either quantifiable, where the potential economic benefit is known, or non-quantifiable.

There are no contingent assets for the year ended 30 June 2024 (2023: Nil).

Contingent liabilities

Contingent liabilities are:

- possible obligations that arise from past events, whose existence will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the entity; or
- present obligations that arise from past events but are not recognised because:
 - it is not probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligations; or
 - the amount of the obligations cannot be measured with sufficient reliability.

Contingent liabilities are also classified as either quantifiable or non-quantifiable.

There are no quantifiable claims for the year ending 30 June 2024 (2023: Nil).

7.9.7 Australian Accounting Standards issued that are not yet effective

Certain new and revised Australian Accounting Standards (AAS) and interpretations have been published that are not mandatory for the 30 June 2024 reporting period. AGPC has assessed the impact of these new standards and their applicability and early adoption where applicable.

As at 30 June 2024, the following standards and interpretations have been issued but were not effective. They become effective for the first financial statements for the reporting periods commencing after the stated operative dates as follows.

| Standard/Interpretation | Summary | Applicable for annual reporting periods beginning on or after | Impact on AGPC financial statements |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------|

AASB 2022-8 makes consequential amendments to other Australian Accounting Standards so that public sector entities are permitted to continue to apply AASB 4 and AASB 1023 to annual periods before 1 July 2026. This Standard applies for annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2023. AASB 2022-9 amends AASB 17 to make public sector-related modifications (for example, it specifies the pre-requisites, indicators and other considerations in identifying arrangements that fall within the scope of AASB 17 in a public sector context). | 1 July 2026 | The standard is not expected to have a significant impact on AGPC. |

A number of other standards and amendments have also been issued that apply to future reporting periods, however, they are not expected to have any significant impact on the financial statements in the period of initial application.

7.9.8 Other accounting policies and disclosures

Goods and services tax (GST)

Income, expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of associated GST, unless the GST incurred is not recoverable from the taxation authority. In this case it is recognised as part of the cost of acquisition of the asset or as part of the expense.

Receivables and payables are stated inclusive of the amount of GST receivable or payable. The net amount of GST recoverable from, or payable to, the taxation authority is included with other receivables or payables in the balance sheet.

Income tax

AGPC is exempt from income tax under Section 24AR of Division 1B of the Income Tax Assessment Act, 1936.

Other non-financial assets

Other non-financial assets include prepayments which represent payments in advance of receipt of goods or services or that part of expenditure made in one accounting period covering a term extending beyond that period.

Foreign currency transactions and balances

All foreign currency transactions during the financial year are brought to account using the exchange rate in effect at the date of the transaction. Foreign monetary items existing at the end of the reporting period are translated at the closing rate at the date at the end of the reporting period. Non-monetary assets carried at fair value that are denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the rates prevailing at the date when the fair value was determined.

Foreign currency translation differences are recognised in 'other economic flows' and accumulated in the cash flow hedge reserve in the period in which they arise.

Economic dependency

The ongoing activities of AGPC are dependent upon AGPC being able to exercise its rights and perform its obligations under the Australian Grands Prix Act 1994 and the continued existence of certain contracts with international bodies concerning the staging of the Formula 1® Australian Grand Prix at Albert Park and the staging of the Australian Motorcycle Grand Prix at Phillip Island. The existing contract in respect of the Formula 1® Australian Grand Prix runs until 2037. The contract in respect of the Australian Motorcycle Grand Prix runs until 2026.

7.9.9 Glossary of technical terms

The following is a summary of the major technical terms used in this report.

Amortisation is the expense which results from the consumption, extraction or use over time of a non-produced physical or intangible asset. This expense is classified as an 'other economic flow'.

Borrowings refer to interest-bearing liabilities mainly raised from public borrowings raised through the Treasury Corporation of Victoria, lease liabilities, service concession arrangements and other interest-bearing arrangements. Borrowings also include non-interest-bearing advances from government that are acquired for policy purposes.

Commitments include those operating, capital and other outsourcing commitments arising from non-cancellable contractual or statutory sources.

Comprehensive result is the change in equity for the period other than changes arising from transactions with owners. It is the aggregate of net result and other non-owner changes in equity.

Depreciation is an expense that arises from the consumption through wear or time of a produced physical or intangible asset. This expense is classified as a 'transaction' and so reduces the 'net result from transaction'.

Effective interest method is the method used to calculate the amortised cost of a financial asset and of allocating interest income over the relevant period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial asset or, where appropriate, a shorter period.

Ex gratia expenses are the voluntary payments of money or other non-monetary benefit (e.g. a write off) that is not made either to acquire goods, services or other benefits for the entity or to meet a legal liability, or to settle or resolve a possible legal liability of or claim against the entity.

Employee benefits expenses include all costs related to employment including wages and salaries, leave entitlements, termination payments and superannuation contributions.

Financial asset is any asset that is:

- (a) cash;
- (b) an equity instrument of another entity;
- (c) a contractual right;
- (d) a contract that will or may be settled in the entity's own derivative instruments and is:
 - i. a non-derivative for which the entity is or may be obliged to receive a variable number of the entity's own derivative instruments; or
 - ii. a derivative that will or may be settled other than by the exchange of a fixed amount of cash or another financial asset for a fixed number of the entity's own derivative instruments.

Financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a liability or equity instrument of another entity. Financial assets or liabilities that are not contractual (such as statutory receivables or payables that arise as a result of statutory requirements imposed by governments) are not financial instruments.

Financial liability is any liability that is:

- (a) a contractual obligation:
 - i. To deliver cash or another financial asset to another entity; or
 - ii. To exchange financial assets or liabilities with another entity under conditions that are potentially unfavorable to the entity; or
- (b) a contract that will or may be settled in the entity's own derivative instruments and is:
 - i. A non-derivative for which the entity is or may be obliged to deliver a variable number of the entity's own derivative instruments; or

- ii. a derivative that will or may be settled other than by the exchange of a fixed amount of cash or another financial asset for a fixed number of the entity's own derivative instruments. For this purpose, the entity's own derivative instruments do not include instruments that are themselves contracts for the future receipt or delivery of the entity's own derivative instruments.

Financial statements: Depending on the context of the sentence where the term 'financial statements' is used, it may include only the main financial statements (i.e. comprehensive operating statement, balance sheet, cash flow statements and statement of changes in equity); or it may also be used to replace the old term 'financial report' under the revised AASB 101 (September 2007), which means it may include the main financial statements and the notes.

Grants can either be operating or capital in nature. Grants can be paid as general-purpose grants which refer to grants that are not subject to conditions regarding their use. Alternatively, they may be paid as specific purpose grants which are paid for a particular purpose and/or have conditions attached regarding their use.

Intangible assets represent identifiable non-monetary assets without physical substance.

Interest expense represents costs incurred in connection with borrowings. It includes interest on advances, loans, overdrafts, bonds and bills, deposits, interest components of lease repayments, service concession financial liabilities and amortisation of discounts or premiums in relation to borrowings.

Interest income includes interest received on bank term deposits, interest from investments and other interest received.

Leases are rights conveyed in a contract, or part of a contract, the right to use an asset (the underlying asset) for a period of time in exchange for consideration.

Net acquisition of non-financial assets (from transactions) are purchases (and other acquisitions) of non-financial assets less sales (or disposals) of non-financial assets less depreciation plus changes in other movements in non-financial assets. Includes only those increases or decreases in non-financial assets resulting from transactions and therefore excludes write-offs, impairment write-downs and revaluations

Net result is a measure of financial performance of the operations for the period. It is the net result of items of revenue, gains and expenses (including losses) recognised for the period, excluding those that are classified as 'other non-owner changes in equity'.

Net result from transactions or net operating balance is a key fiscal aggregate and is revenue from transactions minus expenses from transactions. It is a summary measure of the ongoing sustainability of operations. It excludes gains and losses resulting from changes in price levels and other changes in the volume of assets. It is the component of the change in net worth that is due to transactions and can be attributed directly to government policies.

Net worth is calculated as assets less liabilities, which is an economic measure of wealth.

Non-financial assets are all assets that are not 'financial assets'. It includes prepayments, infrastructure, equipment and intangible assets.

Other economic flows included in net result are changes in the volume or value of an asset or liability that do not result from transactions. In simple terms, other economic flows are changes arising from market re-measurements. They include gains and losses from disposals, revaluations and impairments of non-current physical and intangible assets as well as fair value changes of financial instruments.

Other economic flows – other comprehensive income (OCI) comprises items (including reclassification adjustments) that are not recognised in net result as required or permitted by other Australian Accounting Standards. They include changes in physical asset revaluation surplus and gains and losses on remeasuring available-for-sale financial assets.

Payables includes short and long-term trade debt and accounts payable, grants and interest payable.

Receivables includes short and long-term trade credit and accounts receivable, grants, taxes and interest receivable.

Sales of goods and services refers to revenue from the direct provision of goods and services and includes fees and charges for services rendered, sales of goods and services and fees from regulatory services. User charges includes sale of goods and services revenue.

Supplies and services generally represent cost of goods sold and the day-to-day running costs, including maintenance costs, incurred in the normal operations of AGPC.

Transactions are those economic flows that are considered to arise as a result of policy decisions, usually an interaction between two entities by mutual agreement. They also include flows within an entity such as depreciation where the owner is simultaneously acting as the owner of the depreciating asset and as the consumer of the service provided by the asset. Taxation is regarded as mutually agreed interactions between the government and taxpayers. Transactions can be in kind (e.g. assets provided/given free of charge or for nominal consideration) or where the final consideration is cash. In simple terms, transactions arise from the policy decisions of the government.
